Online Symposium

Engineer Your Research For Start-up 1 March - 5 March 2021 (5pm-7pm)

- In the present world, dominated by information, we believe that knowledge is gained by discussion. In this symposium, we wish to interact with the resource persons as friend and thus relieving the tension usually developed during lectures on topic related to Start up.
- The focus of symposium is to bring together participants and Founder CEO of Start-up who are successful in starting the company based on their research.
- The participants will also get the opportunity to interact with the advisor to Start up and individual who has seen ups and downs in their long journey as industrialist.
- Not only the students and researchers but the faculty members guiding PhD will be benefitted by attending the symposium and focus more on deployment of research.
- BETIC @ VNIT is now entering in new phase, where prospective researchers will be mentored for starting the company based on their research and thus creating the Eco system for job creation in eastern Maharashtra(Vidharbha)/Central India
